Those Were The Times

AS WE LOOK BACK ON OUR YEARS HERE AT THE JOHN D. O'BRYANT, MANY MEMORIES COME TO MIND. SOME OF US REMEMBER THOSE DAYS FRESHMEN YEAR IN THE SMALL LEANING COMMUNITY. AS SOPHOMORES WE ALL PASSED THE MCAS AND WATCHED THE 9/11 TRAGEDY IN OUR CLASSROOMS. AS OUR JUNIOR YEAR ROLLED AROUND WE GOT A NEW PRINCIPAL, AND NOW FINALLY AS GRADUATING SENIORS WE HAVE AT LAST ACCOMPLISHED OUR GOAL. WE CAME, WE SUCCEEDED, AND NOW WE WILL VENTURE ON TO OUR ADULT LIVES TO LIVE OUT OUR DREAMS. SO AS WE MOVE ON, WE TAKE A STEP BACK IN TIME AND LOOK AT THE TIMES THAT MADE US WHO WE ARE TODAY.

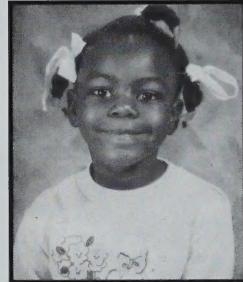

CLASS OF 2004, BEST OF LUCK!

Where should I start?
 Congratulations first of all! This has been a long ride, especially for the graduates that have been here since seventh grade. Thank God I'm not one of them; I don't know if I could've survived!
 We had our ups and downs throughout our high school years. We've been in and out of friendships and relationships. You know the typical high school drama! Through it all we still managed to overcome and move on to a brighter future.
It has been an honor and privilege representing the class of "2004" for two years. I wish you the very best of luck with whatever the future holds for you and may God Bless.
 Sincerely,
 Your President Shayna Smallwood

ARIES

OVERVIEW: The New Year finds you in a thoughtful mood — after January 3rd, the holiday spirit is a thing of the past, and by the 6th you're thinking seriously about the future. You're not quite ready to do something about it, but by the 21st you gain confidence and vision. You have until February 20th to sell others on your big ideas, and their enthusiasm makes you more sure of yourself. After March 7, you feel a heavy weight slipping off your shoulders. Then get ready for an early start on a splendid spring.

Summer brings some change-ups. Passion gets reckless in June — have fun, but use your head! Lost people find themselves after July 23rd, and then things get interesting. You take care of yourself, and you try to bring others with you; but what if they'd rather not join in? The second half of August is a struggle between getting what you need and getting the message. At least you get it right by the beginning of September, just in time to deal with the important stuff.

TAURUS

OVERVIEW: You're good to go in January, clear about the past and future, ready for the here and now. If you stumble between the 3rd and 6th, it just makes you funnier and more human. You can live with that until something big slaps you down on the 21st. With luck and a little help, you're back on your feet by Valentine's Day. If there's a dearth of love on earth, the stars take pity on you by February 20th. You're fully restored and ready to make a little trouble after March 7th.

You can feel Autumn beginning in your bones — and a chilly mood between October 14th and 24th sends you on a quest for personal warmth. When previously mysterious individuals pull you into their orbit at the end of the month, you feel safe again. Seek and you will find work, a home or even love in the second half of November. Let the nesting begin as the holidays approach. And if the middle part of December feels like a big present tied with a red ribbon all for you, just wait to see what winter solstice has in store.

GEMINI

OVERVIEW: January's all business; get your resolutions in order and focus on following through. Any lingering indecision from last year finally resolves on the 6th. You bite the bullet when you believe in the cause. When the stars brighten your life on the 21st, you can't help smiling — and when you smile, other people do too. Until late February, make time for a social life and you'll get noticed. The 29th is your extra day for gaining an edge or losing focus, depending on what you make of it. March 7th brings any drifters back to earth.

Your true colors go with anything between September 23rd and October 24th — but after this, there are some matches and implications that you'd rather not consider. Will you spend the rest of the year on the run from the inevitable? November 8th opens a window for art or self-analysis; what you discover this month could change your life. Don't lose it once you find it. Jolly December's the time to celebrate your potential, and after the holidays, winter solstice brings the opportunity to make some real achievements.

CANCER

OVERVIEW: Don't make too many New Year's resolutions — January finds you less than focused. The longer your list, the less likely you'll make a dent in it. Put some of this stuff on hold for later. After January 21st, avoid guilt about your love of variety; there's nothing wrong with having more than one flavor. Valentine's Day could be interesting. February 20th unlocks the part of you that really wants to come out. After the first week in March, lost initiative is recovered and your enthusiasm is back.

Autumn brings changes — from September 23rd through at least October 14th, you feel imposed upon by the limits you thought you'd transcended. A flood of water energy on the 24th saves you from drying up and blowing away. Nostalgia for the old days is healthy and fun until November 11th: After that, find some new energy. Then maybe your dreams are coming true, or maybe this is a taste of what could be. Thanksgiving shows you what needs change, and December shows you where to start.

LEO

OVERVIEW: Be cautious in January — good luck equals nothing bad happening. Careful investment feels possible between the 6th and 21st, but mostly you avoid games of chance. Then self-control slips away, and by February you're living on the edge and very much enjoying it. The 20th pulls you up short, dragging you back across the line that you may have finally crossed. By the second week in March you're firmly back in charge of your own actions again, and you've learned a thing or two about moderation.

Fall begins on a high note, but by October 14th you should heed the warning that nothing lasts forever. Flame gives way to steam on the 24th, hiding the imperfection that you suddenly notice. It's obviously somebody else's turn in the sun. Early November belongs to documentation and scrapbooks, but after the 22nd you find a whole new range of reasons to be thankful. Differences of opinion can't touch you during this happy season. December's a time of hope — hold onto it as you segue into the New Year.

VIRGO

OVERVIEW: Be patient in the first week January as the year gets off to a slow start. Then your thoughts get ahead of your feet, and you're the one pushing it. Chemistry or communications falter after the 21st, and others mistake your position and intentions. Unless you're especially clear, Valentine's Day weekend could be a less than humorous comedy of errors. Your chances for success and failure are equally clear starting February 20th, but by the second week of March you have the strength of will to tip the balance in your favor.

From September 23rd through November 21st, you get all the time you need to finish your great works. When interesting things happen to your neighbors in the second half of October, it's just more grist for your mill. The second week of November prods you to get involved again. Distraction increases between Thanksgiving and winter solstice; you're in demand; don't be grumpy about it. Starting December 22nd, you're ready to do something — if you don't know what that is, New Year 2005 will give you ideas.

Horoscopes

LIBRA

OVERVIEW: You enter the New Year looking over your shoulder in case the past is following. Soothe your guilty conscience by putting your resolutions into effect after January 6th. Be good until the 21st; then you can follow your heart or your appetite. Enjoy a full month of playing and do some traveling if you can. As long as you're ready to start paying up on February 20th, your credit is good. But beware: When your grace period runs out on March 7th, any and all rules will be enforced again.

You're in top form as autumn begins in late September. By October 14th, you challenge the world to play on your terms — and it accepts. Delusions of grandeur come with the territory on the 24th, but it's all in fun. You deserve your playtime. Evidence of your Halloween madness resurfaces in the second week of November, but the fallout won't touch you. Stay humble as the holiday season gears up, and December will repay you with kindness and strength. You might have to explain a few things after winter solstice, but you'll have all the necessary evidence.

SCORPIO

OVERVIEW: You're ready for anything as January begins, and you're confident you can beat the odds. If anything shakes that confidence between the 3rd and 6th, you won't show it. Assumptions and dependencies remain strong until the 21st, when it begins to become clear that you lack the resources to support your ideals. February has its setbacks and lost causes, but after the 20th you find something you can use and there's reason to hope again. And hope combined with discipline makes March a constructive month.

Turn down your ego on September 23rd so that teamwork can be a reality. Be quiet about your imminent success after October 14th — the world will behold your magnificence by the 24th. Most of the following month is a dream come true, although from November 8th to 11th, you get a little reality check — analyze that dream in progress. This year, start spreading holiday cheer early. Be sure that you listen to others in the first half of December; the year's end will be a lot more fun (and could be a lot hotter) that way.

SAGITTARIUS

OVERVIEW: Despite or maybe because of a heroic performance around the New Year, the beginning of January could find you a little confused or worn out. You'll get your bearings back quickly, and those in need of direction will find it on the 21st. Maybe it's money or some higher principle that'll motivate you; take it as far as it can go, but don't be surprised if you hit a wall after February 20th. Be perceptive and you'll probably realize that the next month is about slowing down and looking around, not screeching to a halt.

Autumn is all yours. Starting September 23rd, you befriend anyone that you've alienated. Laughing at your own expense increases your value on October 14th. Lost or deferred love comes back to you after the 24th. Be ready with heartfelt apologies on November 8th and cheerful ultimatums on the 11th. If you're not yet in your own personal heaven, you're sure to get there by the 22nd — don't forget to share. Grudges have no place in this season of light and hope. The holidays are happy indeed; celebrate yourself and your loved ones.

CAPRICORN

OVERVIEW: You don't know what everyone's complaining about — the holidays were great, but so is the New Year. The targets you hit in January make up for whatever you miss about last year. By the 21st, you're in step with your neighbors, even if that means you've slowed down a little; consider what the group wants and what you're willing to give. From February 20th to March 7th, you're back on your fabulous fast track upwards. Then you can level off on a plateau of excellence for the rest of the winter.

September 23rd reminds you again that you don't live in a vacuum. The next few weeks challenge you to accept when you might not agree. By the end of October, you're more than ready to be back among friends. Starting November 8th, you review past triumphs and plan ways to improve on them. The seasonal festivities are always a convenient distraction, but you lock onto a personal project as December begins, joyously forcing your vision onto some unyielding medium. And don't worry, you'll have plenty of happy holiday time.

AQUARIUS

OVERVIEW: You're aware of past mistakes in early January, and you intend to do better — with or without help. The 6th opens your ideal window for starting, and you can expect a major breakthrough by the 21st. As February begins, an appreciative audience collects around your efforts. The professional and personal mix beautifully in the second week of the month, although the 20th takes some wind out of your sails. Luckily, your watery characteristics help you wring every drop of positive feeling from subsequent events. The tried and true is still a reliable fallback in March.

Everyone relaxes or perks up after September 23rd. Your neighborhood or work is exactly what you need it to be. Commitments made on October 14th will keep you warm and satisfied when the tide turns on the 24th, and hardships beginning on the 28th fade like bad dreams after November 11th. From here to year's end it's a free ride, with the full benefits becoming obvious after the 22nd. December hosts an easy fight between you and the perceived forces of darkness — by the height of the holidays, you're clearly winning.

PISCES

OVERVIEW: The miracles you started working during the holidays are alive and well in the New Year. Take it slow and be reasonable — setbacks during the first week of January are nothing personal. Until the 21st, it's all in your mind; after this point, start talking. February brings a much-needed reality check. You're basically right, but feedback helps your fine-tuning. Starting on the 20th, your sincere passion turns you into a verifying, vindicating machine, and after March 7th, you're ideally positioned to spell it out for nonbelievers.

As autumn begins: You have to listen from late September through mid-October, whether or not you agree. Friends rescue you on the 24th, escorting you through a fantastic Halloween. Uninvited guests start bending your life out of shape in the second week of November. By the 22nd, it's clear that your holiday season is spinning out of control. Stop fighting and don't stress. The first half of December proves just how broad your tastes are, and the coming of winter joins happy endings with promising beginnings.

Thank you, Ms. Nevins!

For the sacrifice of time...after school, evenings and weekends, time away from your family and your other life. And thank you too Mr. Nevins, for being understanding and supportive which made it possible for her to give so much of herself to us.

Thank you too for your patience, Ms. Nevins. We know it wasn't easy but despite the rough days and the headaches, you stuck with us through it all, through thick and thin...through in-fighting and he said/she said; despite procrastination and laziness, you stuck with us and ensured that we could make it happen. And we did, thanks to you.

We owe you more than this simple thank you. We owe you a vacation!

Love,

The Class of 2004

Life

As a member of this life, in our world
I'll give you this advice:
Take my hand when you need it,
And I'll show you my parts of town;
Don't always expect me to let you down.
Give me something and I may be grateful,
But take something away and I'll definitely be mad.
If you look out for my own good and treat me graceful,
When you need me, I'll be had.
And because you mean as much to me as you do,
I'll always be there for you.

- Jesse Schiff
